A little meat goes a long way with plenty of tomatoes, peppers, onion and garlic: one serve gives about 25 g of protein and is rich in vitamin C, zinc and vitamin B12.

Diet notes: Low carb (7.7 g net carbs) but not keto: 42% of the energy is from fat, and keto meals get about 60% or more.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Heat the oven to 425°F (no fan). Melt the butter in a shallow clay pot or cast-iron pan over medium heat without letting it burn. 0:47
2. Add the meat, season with half the salt and pepper and sear for 3–4 minutes, stirring now and then. 1:31
3. Stir in the onion, peppers and tomatoes. Crush the garlic with a pinch of salt, chop it finely and add it with the rest of the salt and pepper, the thyme and the red pepper powder. 1:47
4. Mix the tomato paste into the water and pour it over. Lay a round of baking paper directly on top of the food. 3:42
5. Bake on the second-lowest rack for about 1 hour for veal (25–30 minutes if using lamb), until the meat is very tender. Scatter with parsley and finish with freshly ground pepper. 4:44

> Tip Refika serves it with warm Turkish pide for dipping into the juices; it is also good with bulgur or potatoes. Olive oil can replace the butter.

The method is a summary in our words — the video shows every step.
