Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Season the goat pieces with the salt, onions, scotch bonnet and curry powder, mix well, cover and marinate in the fridge for at least 2 hours (overnight is best). 1:02
2. Heat the oil in a wide heavy pan over medium-high heat. Add the goat, leaving most of the onion and pepper behind for now, and sear until the pieces darken and are sealed all over. 2:38
3. Add the remaining onion and pepper, the thyme, scallions and allspice berries. Swish the 710 ml hot water around the marinating bowl and pour it in. Bring to the boil, stirring to lift the curry off the bottom. 4:01
4. Cover and simmer on very low heat for about 1½ hours, until the goat is getting tender. 5:53
5. Tuck in the potatoes, bring back to the boil, then simmer 35–40 minutes more until the potatoes are soft, the meat falls off the bone and the gravy is thick. Garnish with parsley if you like. 6:29

> Tip Serves 4 (our estimate). Time includes a 2-hour marinade; overnight is even better. Serve with rice and peas or plain rice. Leave the scotch bonnet whole for a milder curry.
