Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Put the flaked coconut, almonds, pecans and pumpkin seeds in a food processor and pulse until they look like coarse crumbs with a few larger pieces. 1:00
2. Add the collagen and salt, pulse briefly to mix, and tip everything into a large bowl. 1:51
3. Melt the butter in a pan over medium heat with the powdered and brown sweeteners, stirring just until the sweetener dissolves — don't let it boil. Stir in the vanilla. 2:18
4. Pour the syrup over the nut mixture and toss until everything is well coated, then stir in the mini chocolate chips. 3:08
5. Line an 8 inch metal pan with baking paper hanging over the sides. Tip in the mixture and press it down very firmly and evenly with a flat-bottomed glass. 3:39
6. Bake at 300°F for 20–25 minutes, until golden brown on top. 4:19
7. Let the slab cool completely in the pan or it will crumble, then lift it out by the paper and cut in half lengthwise and six across to make 12 bars. 4:28

> Tip Use an erythritol-based sweetener: the cook found allulose made the bars too soft to hold together. Sliced almonds can replace the coconut and sunflower seeds the pumpkin seeds.
