About 38 g protein and 8 g net carbs a serve: octopus stewed in its own juices with fresh tomatoes, olives and capers, with no water or flour added.

Diet notes: Low carb (8 g net carbs) but not keto: 41% of the energy is from fat, and keto meals get about 60% or more.

Ingredients 9 · SERVES 4

- [ ] 1 octopus, about 1 kg, cleaned
- [ ] 300 g cherry or datterini tomatoes, cut into chunks
- [ ] 20–30 green olives (Gaeta olives are the traditional choice)
- [ ] 10–12 capers, salted or in brine
- [ ] 1 garlic clove, crushed in its skin
- [ ] 2 small chillies (peperoncino), to taste
- [ ] a handful of fresh parsley, stalks and leaves kept apart
- [ ] extra virgin olive oil, enough to cover the base of the pot (about 3 tbsp)
- [ ] a pinch of salt

Contains: Molluscs. Check labels on stock, sauces and spice mixes.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Clean the octopus (or buy it cleaned, as the cook does): turn the head inside out and remove the innards, cut out the eyes and push out the beak with your finger. Rinse well. 1:10
2. Cover the base of a heavy pot (ideally terracotta, over a heat diffuser) with olive oil. Add the crushed garlic, the chillies and the capers and let them sizzle gently. 2:37
3. While that cooks over low heat, cut the tomatoes into chunks: quarters for small ones, sixths for larger ones. 3:02
4. Add the parsley stalks to the pot, then lower the octopus in slowly, head first, so the head releases its water and the octopus doesn't stick. 3:32
5. Add the olives, tomatoes and a little salt. Raise the heat until it starts to simmer in its own liquid, then put the lid on. 4:01
6. Once it has released its liquid, move to the lowest heat and cook covered for 25 minutes, turn the octopus, then cook another 20 minutes, until the tentacles relax into the sauce. 4:29
7. Turn off the heat and leave the octopus to rest in the pot for 15 minutes, then stir in the chopped parsley leaves and serve with the sauce. 4:57

> Tip Serves 4 is our estimate for a 1 kg octopus. Go easy on salt: olives, capers and the octopus are already salty. Neapolitans mop up the sauce with bread; a green salad keeps it lower in carbs.

The method is a summary in our words, in English — the video (in Italian) shows every step.
