Allergens found in the listed ingredients: Crustacea, Fish, Tree nuts, Sulphites. Worked out from the ingredient list, not tested. Stock, sauces, spice mixes and other packaged foods can contain allergens, so always read the labels on what you buy. If you have a food allergy, don't rely on this.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Heat 3 tbsp olive oil in a stockpot over medium heat. 0:51
2. Add 10 blanched almonds and 4 peeled garlic cloves and fry 2–3 minutes, stirring constantly, until golden. Lift them into a mortar and set aside. 1:23
3. In the same oil add the onion, red pepper, carrot, zucchini and 3 sliced garlic cloves, cut in big chunks. Sauté 5–6 minutes, stirring every minute or two, until the onion is translucent. 1:57
4. Stir in the oregano and thyme, pour in ½ cup white wine, turn the heat to medium-high and cook 3–4 minutes until the wine has reduced by half. 2:53
5. Add the can of diced tomatoes, a pinch of sea salt and plenty of black pepper, then 2 cups vegetable broth. Bring to a boil. 3:43
6. Meanwhile pound the fried almonds and garlic with 2 tbsp parsley and a pinch of salt into a paste. 4:30
7. Stir the paste into the boiling stew, cover and simmer on low-medium heat about 10 minutes. Cut the hake into 1-inch pieces, pat the shrimp dry, and season both with salt and pepper. 4:57
8. Add the fish, cover and cook 3 minutes; add the shrimp, cover and cook 1 minute more. Take off the heat and serve in shallow bowls with chopped parsley. 6:12

> Tip Makes 2 big bowls. Albert serves it with a crusty baguette (not in the numbers). For a nut allergy he swaps the almonds for two slices of baguette in the paste. Any firm white fish works.

The method is a summary in our words — the video shows every step.
